Funniest moment: Upon reaching the second dam, after a hot and dusty co-ed hike in Azusa canyon, I stripped down to my underwear, and dove into the lake, as I hit the cold water my skivvies were pulled down around my ankles (unknown to me). After turning around and taking my first step toward the shore, I realized something had me by both ankles – which scared the "you know what" out of me, -- I somehow stepped out of my shorts, and ran onto to shore totally nude, upon which I heard one of the co-eds state: "Oh my God, he's a turtle" !!! (Due to the cold water shrinkage factor on the male anatomy)

Most embarrassing moment: See funniest moment

Biggest accomplishment (personal): still breathing

Best summer vacation: Western Europe & Morocco.
