Alumni helping Aztecs

Members of Azusa High's Classes of 1959-1970 are starting the new year off right.

The alumni donated $600 to repaint the Aztec Drum, used for years in Aztec ceremonies on campus.

The planned renovation should total $2,000 and include buying new parts and repainting.

Visiting their alma mater to make the check presentation were Shirley Linn and Ray Sewell, Class of 1964 and Sherry Benshoof, Class of 1965, Principal John Steven Coke and Mike Larson, assistant principal.

Former Aztecs maintain strong ties to the high school, especially after the 50th anniversary celebrations last year.
